

Jordy, Age 1

Phenylketonuria (PKU) | Wisconsin | Annual costs: $600

My son just turned one. Just over a year ago, our lives drastically changed when we found out our little guy has PKU. Since he's still small, he doesn't eat too much yet. However, as he grows and eats more, the cost will certainly be more. We do our best to provide for our 3 children. Knowing our son's nutrition will be a large added expense is scary. Assistance with medical nutrition would help us ensure he can live a long, fulfilling life while being a contributing member of society.
